ROOSEVELT PARTY ALLAYS THIRST IN POOL OF WATER

(By Warrington Dawson, Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

Natvasha, British East Africa, July 14.—Although both President Roosevelt and Kermitt together with the other members of the Roosevelt party today are laughing at their experiences of the last few days, it is known that the party was in peril all during its journey to Lake Attendborough, when they suffered from lack of water. In my dispatches of Monday I told of the hurried trip to the Attendborough estate of R. J. Cunningham, the English guide with the Roosevelt party. Colonel Roosevelt is inclined to minimize the danger, but those who have come to Natvasha from Attendborough estate, where the Roosevelt party is now hunting, declare the party was in dire need of food and water.

While hunting in the direction of the Attendborough estate to which he had been invited, Colonel Roosevelt with all his porters and gun bearers reached Camp Plains last Saturday night completely worn out. The water supply of the entire party was completely exhausted and the food was running low. In the terrible heat men and beasts needed water badly. Judge their dismay when they reached Camp Plains to find that the pool at which they were expected to secure water for themselves and their animals was completely dried up.

It was too late for the party to push onward and the men and beasts were too tired even had it been practicable to go on toward water. Pitching camp Saturday night the members of the party set out in all directions in the vain hope of finding a pool from which enough water could be secured to tide them over. The search was fruitless and the members of the party with parched throats were compelled to go thirsty. Sunday was a typical day in the bush. The search for water was not rest for the Roosevelt party which had to hurry on to water. It was then that Cunningham returned with a few natives separated himself from the party and hurried on into the Attendborough estate to secure water back to the party. Colonel Roosevelt and his larger party followed more slowly and for a time it seemed they must spend another day under the stifling African sun without water, or at least until Cunningham should return.

Fortunately late Sunday afternoon before Cunningham returned the Roosevelt party came upon a pool from which they could get drinking water. There was a hurried halt while the porters built a fire and the members of the party and the porters felt they were almost famished. Colonel Roosevelt would not permit them to drink until the water had been boiled. While the members of the party were not in actual danger of death they suffered considerable inconvenience and pain from thirst.

Today Colonel Roosevelt laughs at the experience.

WOMEN VICTIMS CAN'T SHAKE OFF JOHNSON'S MAGNET

San Quentin, Cal., July 14.—Although they know him as a scheming rascal who wooed and won only for the money he could thus secure, women victims of Johnson Johnson, alias Madison, cannot shake off the magnetic hold he exercises over them. When Johnson was brought here yesterday to begin serving his seven years' term for bigamy he was followed by Mrs. Josephine Henninger of Oakland, one of his victims. He was engaged to Mrs. Henninger as though he had not married her Johnson had secured all her money and left her stranded. Despite this Mrs. Henninger declared to prison officials that she would remain loyal to him and that she still loved him. The police have not found one of Johnson's victims who does not follow the same way toward the swindler. They all declare they still love and cannot shake off the love even though they know he does not return it. The officers would not allow Mrs. Henninger to approach Johnson on the train and would not allow her to speak to him. Nevertheless the deluded woman followed him to the gates of the prison and threw him a kiss as he entered the jail yard. Johnson is to-day working in the jute mill.

CRANE TWO TEAM PROTESTS GAME

If Sustained, Four Games Won by Union Typewriter Company Team Will be Reversed.

CLAIMED BASEMAN WORKS ELSEWHERE
But Winning Team Captain Says That Player is Merely Employed Temporarily in New York Office of Company—Serious Dispute Threatened.

At present there is a great fight on among the directors of the Industrial league. If the plan of some of the managers is put through the Union typewriter team, which now stands first in the league race with a clean slate of eleven victories will be knocked out. It is claimed by some of the managers that Bill Regency, the Yost third baseman, is not eligible to play, because, as it is alleged, he is working in New York, coming to Bridgeport every Saturday to play with his club. Regency has played four games with his team since he went to New York. Only one of these contests has been protested, but if that one is carried the other three will be protested. The protests have been in the breeze for the past three weeks but not till to-day did anything startling happen, when the secretary of the league received the protest of the Crane team. The Crane manager played last Saturday. The Crane manager sets up the claim that according to Article 4, Sec. 1, of the by-laws of the league, a player who is employed by a company, and that company is not eligible, he not being a "bona fide" employee of the company. Captain Keenan of the Yost team, when called on the phone at his home, Regency was being played regularly on the team, that he would be played in the game this Saturday against the No. 1 Crane team at Newfield park and that Regency was a regular employee of the Yost company. He explained that Regency with about a dozen other employees of the factory had been sent to the New York offices of the concern to do temporary work, and that he would be back in Bridgeport within a few weeks. He stated that he had a talk with the officials of the company, and that they authorized him to use his man.

The Yosts are not to lose a game, and nothing that has backed up against them so far has shown any kind of opposition. The magnates may look at the affair in a different light than the Yost management, and might take this chance to make the league race more interesting. The Yosts probably will not take kindly to the proposition of losing the game they have won, and might take a notion to get out of the organization such a team would prove very detrimental to the league. The Yosts have always had a fast aggregation, while Yost field which is used only for industrial league games with one exception is the best baseball field in the city. The league would also lose a big source of revenue, as the collections on Yost field have far surpassed the returns on all other fields. In the event of the Yost team losing the four games, the standing would be changed materially, the No. 2 Crane Co., going first with eight wins and three defeats, while the No. 1 Cranes and Yosts would be tied for second with seven wins and four defeats.

The schedule as arranged for this Saturday by the secretary is as follows: Union Typewriter Co., vs. No. 1 Cranes, Newfield, 2:30. Bridgeport Brass Co., vs. Singer Mfg. Co., Newfield, 4:00. U. M. C. Co., vs. Crane No. 2, Crane Field, 3:15. Warner Bros. Co., vs. A. & B. Co., Seaside Park, 3:15.

JEE AND JOHNSON MAY HAVE MIXUP IN CHICAGO SOON

(Special from United Press.)

Chicago, July 14.—Now that James J. Jeffries has denied that he said he would not fight Johnson, the black champion proposes to put the issue squarely up to the Californian. Jeffries will reach Chicago shortly and Johnson said today that he would confront the ex-champion at his first public appearance, above a ten thousand dollar certified check under his nose and demand a definite answer whether he will fight. Sports here think there may be a preliminary mix-up between the fighters if Johnson carries out his threat.

BANNISTER AND NOLTE SHINE

Great Work of Opposing Twirlers the Feature of Hard Fought Game.

Waterbury, July 14.—Jim O'Rourke's constantly changing Orators, tallenders of the second division, and Mike Doherty's Redville Invincibles, tallenders of the division ahead, were the contenders in yesterday's session on the local lot and both succeeded in making their position more secure. Waterbury finishing up on the heavy end of a 5-to-3 score. The crowd was much below the average, due no doubt to the position the Orators occupy in the race, but the few fans who were out were treated to one of the prettiest games of the season. The Orators on several occasions have shown flashes of championship form and they surely showed some great baseball yesterday after a disastrous first inning when Waterbury secured an apparently safe lead.

It was a case of Waterbury starting off like runaways and finishing up the other innings at top speed to hold the advantage which had been gained. From the third inning to the ninth the battle developed into a pitching duel between Sandy Bannister, who relieved McGarry with one down in the third, and Eddie Nolte of the visitors. The fielding gems were contributed by Steinhauser who pulled in a drive by Brockie near the right field fence in the fourth, saving at least a pair of runs, and Miller of the visitors who made a bare hand catch of a foul fly by Brockie, close to the right base wall in the eighth. Brockie's fast work on Schmalz's bunt in the sixth, a one-hand catch by Chief Miller, and Brockie's near the right field fence in the fourth, saving at least a pair of runs, and Miller of the visitors who made a bare hand catch of a foul fly by Brockie, close to the right base wall in the eighth. Brockie's fast work on Schmalz's bunt in the sixth, a one-hand catch by Chief Miller, and Brockie's near the right field fence in the fourth, saving at least a pair of runs, and Miller of the visitors who made a bare hand catch of a foul fly by Brockie, close to the right base wall in the eighth.
